Subject: ECE 1111: How NASA Writes Space-Proof Code
From: Joseph Picone <joseph.picone@gmail.com>
Date: 6/27/23, 8:15 PM
To: ECE 1111 <temple_engineering_ece1111@googlegroups.com>
CC: Iyad Obeid <iyad.obeid@temple.edu>

Dr. Obeid, who teaches Engineering Computation II and III, passes along this excellent article about writing reliable code.

https://kottke.org/23/06/how-nasa-writes-space-proof-code

I hope you will all consider taking EC III as one of your electives. It covers a lot of things that ECE students don't normally get exposed to but are critical parts of the software development process today.

-Joe