This semester we are going to make use of a software package known as JMP:

https://www.jmp.com/en_us/home.html

This is available to you for free from the university software download web site:

<https://download.temple.edu/>

Please download it, install it, and become familiar with it. We will use this from time to time to check your results.

If you need support for this package, you can contact my graduate student, Somayeh Seifi (somayeh.seifi1361@gmail.com), for help. She will be sitting in on the course this semester and helping me out.
