Figure X. The optimal investment strategy for an individual must balance an investor's aversion to risk with value predictions based solely on the data.